

ANDRES AGUILERA CASTILLO

Profile

Ph.D. in Global Studies (International Economic Policy, Business and Governance Track). My doctoral research explores the linkages between digital technologies and the organization of work in public organizations in Europe. My work experience includes diverse academic institutions in Colombia and South Korean multinationals. I consider myself a boundary spanner due to the cultivation of diversified intellectual interests and networks in areas such as economics, entrepreneurship, technology and policy. I have lived and worked in large cities like Bogota, Colombia and Seoul, South Korea and smallish cities like Tallinn, Estonia and Urbino, Italy.
